GENERAL COURSE INFORMATION

COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is a study of physics, mathematics, and chemistry as related to respiratory care.

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

COURSE OBJECTIVES - Outline form (correlated to Scans and Foundations Skills)

1. The student will perform basic computations to calculate the answers to basic chemistry, physics, and statistics problems. (F-3)
2. The student will approach practical respiratory chemistry, physics, and statistics problems by choosing appropriately from a variety of mathematical techniques. (F-4)
3. The student will understand the theory of gas laws, and exhibit this by recognizing problems in alterations of temperature, pressure and volume, and devising a plan of action by calculating expected changes. (F-9)
4. The student will recognize quality control problems in the blood gas laboratory, and devise a plan of action to solve those problems. (F-8, F-9, C-5, C-6, C-7, C-16, C-20)

2. A comprehensive final examination will be given.
3. Pop quizzes will be given in class.
4. Homework may be assigned during the semester.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

It is the aim of the faculty of South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences, possibly suspension.

Cheating - Dishonesty of any kind on examinations or on written assignments, illegal possession of examinations, the use of unauthorized notes during an examination, obtaining information during an examination from the textbook or from the examination paper of another student, assisting others to cheat, alteration of grade records, illegal entry or unauthorized presence in the office are examples of cheating. Complete honesty is required of the student in the presentation of any and all phases of coursework. This applies to quizzes of whatever length, as well as final examinations, to daily reports and to term papers.

Plagiarism - Offering the work of another as one's own, without proper acknowledgment, is plagiarism; therefore, any student who fails to give credit for quotations or essentially identical expression of material taken from books, encyclopedias, magazines and other reference works, or from themes, reports or other writings of a fellow student, is guilty of plagiarism.

SCANS and FOUNDATION SKILLS

This course completes the following Foundation Skills: F-3, F-4, F-8, F-9, F-10, F-12. This course completes SCANS competencies: C-5, C-6, C-7, C-16, C-20. Refer also to Course Objectives. SCANS and Foundation Skills attached.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

Regular attendance is necessary to successfully meet the course objectives. The student is responsible for all class work covered during absences from class. Students are expected to be in class, on time. A student is tardy if he/she arrives more than 5 minutes after class begins. If a student is tardy to class three times, it will be counted as one absence. It is the student's responsibility to inform the instructor of the reason for an absence and to do so in a timely fashion. A student may be administratively withdrawn from the course if he/she has more than five absences from class and the instructor determines the student is unable to successfully meet the course objectives.

Students who are tardy are asked to respect their peers and enter the classroom quietly in order not to disrupt the class. Students who are late to a class starting with an examination will not be given additional time to complete the exam. The exam will be finished when the last on-time student has completed.

ASSIGNMENT POLICY

1. Students are expected to maintain a study schedule at home to keep current with classroom discussions.
2. Three assignments may be given to allow students to practice the mathematical calculations and concepts prior to the examinations. Assignments are due at the time of that unit exam. No late assignments will be accepted.
3. For students that score less than 80% on their course average, it is highly recommended to attend study lab until the student's course average is 80% or higher for the course. The student can schedule an appointment with the instructor of record for specific remediation instructions which may include exam review, assignment and relevant course work review.

GRADING POLICY - Grades in this course will be determined using the following criteria:

Unit Exams	60%
Homework Assignments	20%
Comprehensive Final Exam	20%

A = 90 - 100

B = 80 - 89

C = 75 - 79

F = 0 - 74
